Please join us in helping children with cancer around the world get their best shot at survival. If you would like more information on The National Children’s Cancer Society and the Global Outreach Program (theNCCS.org/international), visit or contact program director Elizabeth Payne at epayne@thenccs.org.

How We Help

The National Children’s Cancer Society (NCCS) Michele Hertlein Global Outreach Program addresses the inadequate or nonexistent medical care for children with cancer around the globe, with absolutely no cost to the family.

The Global Outreach Program partners with the best branded and generic pharmaceutical companies in the U.S. to obtain drugs and medical supplies for distribution to children’s hospitals and clinics in low and middle income countries.

Since 1993, the program has distributed over $438 million in donated medical products to 77 facilities in 53 countries. Medical professionals at our partner facilities estimate that more than 171,000 children have been assisted through Global Outreach Program donations.
